THE COUNTY CLERK VISITED BY REPUB-

LICAN LEADERS. AFTERWARD HE WENT ACROSS THE BRIDGE, AND WILL ATTEND THE CONFERENCE

County Clerk Jacob Worth had a second delegation of callers yesterday from Republican head-quarters in New-York. On Thursday he received Congressman Quigg and talked with him at longth about the coming political campaign, and yester-day Edward Lauterbach and Jacob Patterson called on him soon after noon in his office in the Hall of Records. Mr. Lauterbach went to Brooklyn primarily on law business, and, according to his own story, dropped in to make a purely social visit with the Kings County leader. Mr. Patterson came a little later with the avowed purpose of talking politics pure and simple.

Mr. Patterson was closeted with Mr. Worth for more than an hour, and within fifteen minutes after he left Mr. Worth and Sheriff Buttling jumped on a trolley-car and started for Mr. Quigg's

After returning from New-York last evening, Mr. Worth authorized the announcement that he had ac-cepted Congressman Quigg's invitation to attend next Monday evening's conference at the New-York next Monday evening's conference at the New-York headquarters, and said that his eight associates on the Conference Committee appointed by the Brooklyn General Committee would be with him. Monday's gathering, he said, would be solely for the purpose of deciding upon a satisfactory basis of representation in the greater city convention, and he predicted at the same time that an agreement would be speedily and amicably reached. He would say nothing regarding the nature of his errand in New-York yesterday, nor would he allow himself to say anything that could possibly be construed as a reference to President Low or any other candidate for the nomination.

reference to President Low or any other candidate for the nomination.

Mr. Worth's friends expressed much gratification yesterday that the New-Yorkers had twice come to Brooklyn to see the County Clerk before they had succeeded in getting him across the Bridge. The New-Yorkers, they said, had been obliged by Mr. Worth's dignified and diplomatic course to abandon their haughty course and treat Mr. Worth as a man whose co-operation was worth coming to Brooklyn for.

The general impression among Brooklyn politicians last night was that Congressman Quigg, Mr. Lauterbach and Mr. Patterson have been trying to convert the County Clerk to the partisan nomination idea. There is no indication that they have had success in such a mission. While Mr. Worth has no personal interest in Mr. Low's affairs, he considers the college president the strongest anti-reason Mr. Low is just the man he wants.

It was reported last night that Abraham Gruber and visited Brooklyn yesterday on a political mission, but nobody could be found who could tell what his errand was, who he saw or what he wanted.

The statement was made yesterday afternoon.

The statement was made yesterday afternoon at the Republican County Committee will hold meeting next week, because it adjourned at its ay meeting for the summer, and will not get gether again until September. It is altogether tely, however, that a special meeting will be lied before September. There is said to be no subtlifted that a meeting will be held next week which the Brooklyn representatives at next anday's conference will make a report.

will be occupied with the stone work, which, it will be remembered, is to be only twenty-eight feet in height. The greater part of the pier above water is to be steel work. The work was retarded at first by a failure to supply cement rapidly enough.

The caisson that is being sunk is like a huge airtight box. Within a few feet of the bottom is a deck, or floor. The present work consists in spreading over this floor about seven feet of concrete. This and subsequent layers of stone sink the caisson and will drive steel, ploughshare-like cutters at the four corners of the caisson down into the rock. When the sinking process has reached the point where these steels are cutting into the rock the work of excavating will begin. To do this work men are passed down through shafts, that are so arranged with valves as to let no air escape from beneath the deck. The men are supplied with fresh air and electric light through pipes. When the space beneath the "deck" will be filled with concrete, making the total depth of the concrete about fifteen feet.

N. Coley, who is supervising the work for P. H. Flynn, the contractor, said yesterday that the trouble among the Italian laborers at the quarry had been settled.

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST THE ROAD.

MRS. LEWIS STARTS AN ACTION GROWING OUT

OF THE VALLEY STREAM DISASTER. Still another suit has been begun against the Long Island Railroad Company as a result of the tally-ho accident on the Merrick Road on Decoration Day. Yesterday afternoon, on the application of Foley & Wray, Justice Van Wyck, in the Supreme Court, Wray, Justice Van Wyck, in the Supreme Court, appointed Jennette L. Lewis, of No. 882 Greene-ave., guardian ad litem of her son, John J. Lewis, fifteen years old, so that he may bring an action against the road. Young Lewis was on the top of the tally-ho, on the second seat from the front, and when the tally-ho was smashed he was thrown to the ground but not severely injured. Young Lewis had two cousins on the tally-ho. One of them, Winslow Lewis, was killed, and the other, Harry, escaped by jumping. There is a statement under oath in the petition for the appointment of a guardian. It is alleged that the tally-ho was struck by "an engine and train going at a high rate of speed and without warning signal being given from the said engine or otherwise, and by reason of the defective condition of the signal-box and the want of proper and ordinary appliances of safety and warning."

CENTURY PLANT SOON TO BLOOM. At the greenhouse of J. Condon, Fort Hamilton Parkway, near Greenwood Cemetery, two weeks age, a flower shoot came from a century plant which had been in Mr. Condon's possession many years. The stem has grown already about eight feet, and will continue to grow until it has attained a height of thirty feet. It is three inches thick, and as solid as if petrified. In 1892 Mr. Condon had one is bloom and found it necessary to raise the roof of the hothouse several feet in order to give the shoot a chance to grow, which it did until it reached a height of thirty feet. Twenty feet up the aten oranches will form, and from them will hang sprays of blossoms. When through blooming the sprays of blossoms. When through the plant dies.

It is a female plant, and there is a pathetic view to take of the matter. For perhaps a century the plant goes on preparing itself for the flower, and the shoot it sends up is its dying effort, the blossoms carrying in them the life of the new plants, the old plant dying in giving them birth.

NEW-JERSEY NEWS.

SHEPARD WAS WELL MARRIED.

ONE CEREMONY WAS PERFORMED IN CAMDEN SEVERAL DAYS BEFORE THE NEW-YORK MARRIAGE.

Camden, June 4 (Special).-It has just been discovered, through the official return made to the City Clerk, that young Elliott F. Shepard, of New-York, was married to Mrs. Esther Wiggins, on March 4 last, by the Rev. William Van Horn, one of this city's busiest marrying parsons. Mr. Van bering the occasion. The couple were driven to his house in Kaighn-ave., by Harry C. Park, a cabman. They answered the necessary questions satisfac-torily. The bridegroom said that he was twenty-three years old and that it was his first marriage. He gave his occupation as a "gentleman." and said that the maiden name of his mother was Vanderbilt. The bride said that it was her second marriage and that she was twenty-five years old.

When the ceremony was over young Shepard placed a roll of notes in the minister's hand and departed. After the couple had gone Mr. Van Horn examined his fee, and much to his surprise and gratification he found five crisp $10 bills. He told a number of friends of the remarkable occurrence, but neither the minister nor those to whom he told the story had any idea that the bridegroom was a son of one of the Vanderbilts and that he some day would be worth millions of dollars. Mr. Van Horn says that he was surprised, some days later, when he saw the newspaper accounts of Mr. Shepard's second marriage in New-York, but he kept his own counsel about the matter.

Mr. Shepard and Miss Wiggins were married in this city by the Rev. Dr. John Hall, after a civil ceremony had been performed.

MAGOWAN'S FRIENDS TO THE RESCUE.

THEY PURCHASE HIS HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AND WILL RETURN IT TO HIM.

Trenton, June 4 (Special).-Ex-Mayor Frank A Magowan's furniture in his Clinton-ave. mansion was sold plecemeal by an auctioneer to-day, and brought $5,769 7c. Everything in the house was pur-chased by a syndicate of Magowan's friends, and all will be returned to him upon the payment of the purchase price. These friends were Senator W. H. lagher, Philip McGrory and George R. Cook.

The idle, the curious and the prospective purchaser roamed through the rooms of Magowan's mansion all day. Many strangers from nearby towns were in attendance, and patiently walted, as the sale was adjourned every half-hour from 10 to the sale was adjourned every nair-nour hour solutions of the women brought their babies, who slept upon the sofas and Turkish divans. While the babies slept and the mothers elbowed each other, Magowan and his friends adjourned the sale at regular half-hour intervals for a conference. The conference was held solely for the purpose of securing an extension of time. The creditors could not reach an understanding, and as no acceptable terms of immediate settlement were advanced the sale continued.

Receiver Charles C. Case, of the Eastern Rubber Manufacturing Company, filed a petition in chancery to-day stating that R. G. Dun & Co. and the H. Claffin Company had recovered judgments against the rubber company amounting to 31624 and $6,301; that levy was made upon the goods and chattels of said corporation, and that the sale will take place to-morrow. This, the receiver says, is an unwarranted interference with his rights, and he asks for a restraining order. An order to show cause why the creditors should not be enjoined was granted, and is made returnable on June 15. 12 o'clock and from noon until 2 o'clock. Many of Moran went for Bolinski, and the dog made for Peitier. The dog jumped for the detective's throat, and it was a terrible struggle to keep him from tearing the man to pieces. The dog's attack was so fierce that Peitier could not draw a pistol and could only choke the fierce animal until it fell to the ground. The dog soon recovered and came back again, but a pistol bullet laid it dead on the ground. While Peitier was fighting the dog, Moran was having an interesting time with Bolinski, who was

A DEER HUNT IN JERSEY CITY. A deer hunt is a novelty in a city, but there was spirited chase after a deer in Jersey City on Thursday night. The animal belongs to Mahlon Apgar, who has a fine house and a spacious lawn at No. 94 Sip-ave. Some one left a gate open, and the deer walked out to the street. A deerhound was near, and immediately a hunt began, in which dogs and boys took part. The affrighted deer, after a run of five blocks, entered the yard of Patrick Burke, No. 66 Jordan-ave. who drove away the dogs and kept the deer until its owner called.

AN UNKNOWN MAN'S BODY FOUND.

Bridge Tender James Foley of the New-Jersey Central Railroad's long bridge between Bayonne and Elizabethport recovered the body of a drowned man from Newark Bay yesterday afternoon. His clothing consisted of blue trousers, blue waistcoat, white shirt and collar, blue necktle and galter shoes. In the pockets were a gold-plated chain, a dollar bill, is cents in change and a chip of wood upon which was written in leadpencil an address deciphered by the police as Jarres Harris, No. 47 East One-hundred-and-thirty-seventh-st., and by Morgue Keeper O'Brien as Amos Ferris, No. 41 First-st. No city or town was specified. The body is at the Bayonne Morgue.

THESE COLLECTORS MADE MONEY Camden, June 4.-People who have subscribed toward the furnishing of the new 6th Regiment armory were surprised to-day to learn that only comparatively small amount of the money collected was going toward the cause for which it was subscribed. It was known that the men who were soliciting the subscriptions were being paid for their work, but it was supposed that they were simply receiving a recompense that paid them for the time they devoted to it. To-day it became known that they were receiving 40 per cent of all known that they were receiving 40 per cent of all the subscriptions, an amount which citizens think too much. About $1.000 has already been collected, in addition to which there is a considerable amount pledged. It is asserted that Gatling Gun Company B did even better by its canvassers, and that those gathering the money were allowed to retain 80 per cent. For the Gatling Gun Company about $3,000 has been collected. Of this amount the company has received but $600 it is said that many who have subscribed, but who have not yet paid, will refuse to contribute.

WESTCHESTER NEWS.

The investigation into the management of the Westchester Temporary Home, under Superintend-ent James W. Pierce, was continued yesterday morning in the Supervisors' room at the Courthouse before Referee Daniel W. Guernsey. This was the first session in the investigation that has been he.d this year. About a half-dozen of the women mem-bers of the Board of Managers were present, and the usual array of counsel representing both sides, ex-County Judge Isaac N. Mills conducting the case for the Home and Henry C. Henderson acting for the prosecution. Dr. H. E. Schmid was the first witness, and was examined as to the physical effect of certain punishments alleged to have been inflicted of certain punishments alleged to have been inflicted upon some of the limates.

Superintendent Pierce was recalled and examined by Mr. Henderson with the evident intention of bringing out the fact that some of the children at the Home had been engaged in drawing a horse lawn-mower over the lawn within the last week or so. The testimony did not develop anything serious, as the children had drawn the machine by ropes in a spirit of p.ay more than anything else, and the subject was dropped quickly. Judge Mills then took the withest in hand and attempted to show by a recent incident at the Home where a boy had assaulted a teacher that it was a difficult matter to conduct an institution of this kind without corporal punishment. recent incident at the Home where a boy had assaulted a teacher that it was a difficult matter to conduct an institution of this kind without corporal punishment. The referee, however, excluded the testimony.

Justice of the Peace M. M. Silliman and Supervisor Frank G. Schurmer, both of White Plains, gave testimony as to having visited the Home at various times as members of the Town Board of Health and to having found the institution in excellent sanitary condition and the inmates neat in appearance and evidently happy and contented.

In the afternoon Marcus K. Tyler testified to having taken charge at the Home on several occasions when Superintendent Pierce was gway on his vacation, and that on the Superintendent's return he would be greeted by the inmates with marks of pleasure, and motioes, such as "Welcome," were hung in the hails of the institution by the children. Superintendent Pierce was again recailed, and the old straw concerning the punishment of the Marjory boy, the whipping of girls under sheets and so on was rethrashed without bringing anything new to light. After some time devoted to examining the wilness upon the system of visiting children after they had been placed out in homes, an adjournment was taken until some day to be fixed next week. A FORMER MANAGER FOR REDFERN FOUND IL

AND HUNGRY IN A TENEMENT-HOUSE. nent in the dressmaking business, was found stary ing with his wife and children in a rear room on the second floor of the tenement-house No. 155 West Twenty-ninth-st, on Thursday night. The discovery was made through the arrest of Loman's thirteenyear-old daughter Eileen by Agent Frank Barclay, of the Gerry society, at Broadway and Twentyninth-st. last night for selling newspapers. She was so poorly clad that the Gerry agent arrested her to take her off the street. At the West Thirtieth-st. station she said that her father was Thirtieth-st, station she said that her father was ill in bed, her mother had just recovered from an attack of malaria, and her fifteen-year-old sister Katherine and her three young brothers were starving. The story was investigated and found to be correct. Loman was at one time the manager for Redfern, in Paris. About three years ago, having saved $10,000, he went into business for himself. He then lived in good style in Yonkers. He made some unfortunate importations and lost all his money. His daughter was discharged in Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday by Magistrate Brann.

WATER-FRONT IMPROVEMENT.

A HEARING OPDERED BY THE SINKING FUND COMMISSION-A MISTAKE BY THE MAYOR. An unsuccessful effort was made yesterday by President O'Brien and Commissioner Einstein, of the Dock Department, to have their plans considered by the Sinking Fund Commission for improving the North River water-front. Five new plers between Charles and Gansevoort sts. are proposed, and also seven new piers between Bloomfield and West Twenty-third sts. Considerable private property is involved in the proposed changes.

The Dock Commissioners had a long letter to the Mayor ready for presentation, describing and ad-vecating their plans. Controller Fitch said that when the plans were first proposed, in 1893, a number of property-owners, including the representamight want to be heard. "I did not know the matter was coming up to-day," said the Controller, "and I was not prepared for it. I did not see the plans and could not examine them." Commissioner Einstein opposed a postponemen and said that the Dock Department was ready to expend $8,500,000, and that as many as ninety houses had been pulled down, and he did not see why the improvement should be retarded by any why the improvement should be retarded by any further hearings.

Mr. Fitch insisted that the property-owners had a right to be heard, and the Mayor declared a motion carried fixing a hearing at 11 a.m. on Monday.

An exciting period in the debate occurred when the Mayor, mistaking Recorder Goff's left shoe for a City Hall cuspidor, began expectorating tobacojuice over the Recorder's footgear and the lower part of his recently carefully creased spring trousers. The Mayor was innocent of his error until he saw the Recorder call Commissioner Oakley's attention to his damaged apparel. Then His Honor swiftly pitched a laconic apology toward the Recorder and hurried to his desk, from which he sent his own cuspidor whirling over the handsome new carpet to the place at the head of the Board table. The Mayor used that, instead of the Recorder's shoe, for the rest of the session.
